Fees

Fees vary according to program. For a complete listing of fees, see the next page.

Fee Reduction for 100% Remote Study

Students who study 100 percent remotely will not be charged the fees typically associated with on-campus living and instruction.

Books and Supplies

$3,000 per year, depending on the program.

Other Expenses

For resident students (students living away from home in either on-campus or off-campus housing), an estimated $600 per month (for a nine-month period) should be allowed for food, housing, clothing, and other personal needs. For commuter students (students living at home), an estimated $250 per month should be allowed for personal expenses and transportation.

Students provide their own textbooks and instructional and art supplies. These books and supplies may be purchased either online or at local art supply stores. Bookstore expenses are not chargeable to the student’s Institute tuition account. For those students who have a third party book voucher, they must purchase their books up front and provide the voucher with eligible copies of the receipt in order to be reimbursed.
